Brussels, 31 January 2007

Dear Mr Swetenham,

I am writing to confirm GSM Europe's commitment to cooperate with the European Commission in monitoring the implementation of the European Framework for Safer Mobile Use by Younger Teenagers and Children that shall be signed by European mobile and content providers on 6 February 2007.

As was suggested during the High Level Group sessions, GSM Europe offers to engage in the following activities:

- Publish on its web site and explain the European Framework for Safer Mobile Use so as to raise awareness among the mobile community and the public in general;
- Collect and publish links to national industry frameworks which have been developed in the 27 EU Member States or will be developed in response to the framework on GSM Europe's web site;
- Translate national frameworks into a common working language or common working language(s) to facilitate reference;
- Map the completeness of each national framework against the provisions of the European Framework for Safer Mobile Use;
- Produce metrics on the progress achieved between February 2007 and February 2008 (i.e. national frameworks agreed in X countries out of 27 EU Member States).

Furthermore GSM Europe believes that information exchange among stakeholders would be beneficial to facilitate implementation and best practice sharing. We propose to discuss this matter further in order to determine appropriate ways of putting it into practice.

GSM Europe is looking forward to continue working closely with the European Commission on this very important file.

Yours sincerely,
